Providing communities a catalyst for economic growth.

When companies and communities embrace the potential of women in technology, we unlock new opportunities for economic growth and foster inclusive, sustainable societies. GetWITit, a 501(c)(3) volunteer-led non-profit organization, is on a mission to combat the gender disparity in information systems and computing industries.

We achieve our mission through awareness-building programs, attrition-reduction initiatives, pathways to transition into tech careers, and leadership preparation opportunities. Together, we're shaping a more equitable tech landscape.
